Description

Haemmerlin Polypropylene Interlocking Grass Grid 50cm²

Adding value to Haemmerlin's core range, this interlocking grass grid is manufactured with the same quality standards and passion that Haemmerlin puts into their wheelbarrows.

Supplied in units of 50cm², the strong and durable black polypropylene grid interlock at the 'x' points and can be put to an endless amount of uses within the garden & small holding as well as horticulture, construction & farming to reinforce the ground surface across regular worn areas.

Easy to lay, they will protect pathways and paddock gateways from poaching and ideal for general maintenance allowing grass areas to recover or where reseeding is in process.
