Description

Hozelock 2150 4-Way Tap Connector

This 4 way tap connector lets you convert a single tap into four individual outlets.

Each outlet has its own separate flow control, letting you use all outlets at once or just one at a time if needed.

Specially designed spacing also allows side by side connection of Watering Sensors for smart watering in optimum conditions.

Includes hose end connectors and threaded adaptors so no need to buy additional components to get you started.

Easy to install, supplied with a wall bracket plus all screws and plugs required.
