Bosch Rotak 32R Electric Rotary Mower

This compact little mower is the ideal choice for anyone with a small garden. The lightest mower available from Bosch, its lack of batteries or petrol engine ensure it weighs in at less than 7kg, making it easily light enough for anyone to use with ease, whatever their strength or experience of mowing. The handles are also ergonomically designed, to make using your mower a comfortable as well as easy experience.

With its cutting width of 32cm and 10m cable, this mower is the ideal choice for the city dweller, or indeed anyone with a small garden: the cable is long enough to enable you to reach anywhere within half a tennis court (150m²), and the cutting width is narrow enough to give you a compact turning circle, yet wide enough to mow efficiently. The cutting height can be easily adjusted to any of three cutting heights between 20-60mm, and the innovative grass combs ensure a neat cut right up to or over the edge of the lawn, even around or against patios, walls or flowerbeds. The rear roller both aids the balance of the machine over grass edges, and ensures a professional striped finish for your lawn.

The 1200W Powerdrive motor delivers an effective cut in even the most difficult grass conditions. This motor runs at 3600rpm, ensuring the Rotak 32 R is one of the fastest mowers in the Bosch range. The Powerdrive system combines the power delivered by the motor and the innovative gear sets to keep the blade running at 3600rpm whatever the conditions, by altering the torque. Whenever conditions become more challenging, the system senses the increased load on the blade and increases the torque supply from the motor. It is this clever engineering that characterises Bosch mowers, and this one is no exception.

The lightness and manoeuvrability of this machine is no bar to convenience: the grass collecting box has a generous capacity of 31l, allowing you to spend as much time as possible mowing and as little time as possible emptying the clippings. When you have finished mowing and wish to store your machine, its wheels and integrated carrying handle make transporting it easy, and it is so light it can be hung up in your shed until you need it again.
