Description

Alan Paine Combrook Ladies Landscape Tweed Field Jacket (Shooting Fit)

The rich heritage and traditional values of the ALAN PAINE brand continue today as they strive to offer beautifully crafted, quality garments and this contemporary Tweed Field Jacket is a super new addition to the popular Combrook Range.

Beneath the pure soft wool tweed outer lies a waterproof and breathable membrane purposely designed to keep you comfortable in the most testing of weather conditions. Thoughtful tailoring with a single rear vent and adjustable back belt allow for the perfect shooting fit and waterproof windbreaker cuffs will keep those elements at bay. There is plenty of space too for all important essentials including an inside media pocket, two generously sized front flap pockets and a concealed map pocket under the front placket. Stylishly finished with a high soft mock suede collar for added warmth and detailed contrast piping, the Combrook Ladies Field Jacket is a truly coherent piece of couture; modern and robust for a day in the field yet elegant enough to transport you to town and back.

Currently available in UK Sizes 8–18.

Note: The Compton Collection has been renamed the Combrook Collection. Don't worry though, the products are exactly the same and crafted to the highest Alan Paine standards.
